DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Chautauque—the Joy Time—came to Danielson Thursday to open the annual series of entertainments. The Chautauque tent on the park, at Main and Reynolds streets, held a representative audience for the opening lecture in the afternoon and a still larger attendance was out for the first of the evening entertainments.

The Lybarger quintet, presenting, in costume, a very fine programme of popular instrumental and vocal successes proved a decidedly attraction at both the afternoon and evening concerts. An added feature, in the evening, was the lecture by Lieut. J. Dunton Sherman, his subject being Fathers and Sons. Thursday was marked by an intensive campaign upon the part of the ticket committee to place enough season tickets to cover the guarantee. Thursday morning there remained 60 tickets to be sold to complete the guarantee and most of these had been disposed of by the noon hour, so that the Chautauque guarantors feel that the success of this year's series of entertainments is assured from a financial standpoint and the artistic success of the series is taken for granted. Judging from the opening entertainments of Thursday.

A washout at the dam of the power plant of the Connecticut company, at the Dyer dam, north of Danielson, caused a suspension of trolley service here Thursday. General Manager Samuel Anderson, who was in Danielson during the forenoon, said it would be sometime before this plant could again operate on water power, but there is a steam plant at the powerhouse and this has been pressed into service to furnish power for the line between Central Village and North Grovesville.

From time to time during years that are gone difficulties such as the one that has now put the water-power plant at the Dyer dam out of commission have caused trouble. It is on which some parts of the plant are built is unstable and upon occasion it shifts about and causes trouble.

Augmented bus service helped make travel easier than it would otherwise have been during Thursday. The East Killingly-Danielson service being put out of business temporarily as the result of the trouble at the Dyer dam, a bus line was quickly put in operation between the two places by the Pelletier service. This was particularly appreciated by the many that wanted to get up to East Killingly for the Old Home day exercises and the special shore dinner that always is such a feature of the event.

The regular bus lines cared for service north and south during the period that the towns hereabouts were without trolley service, which is expected to be normal today (Friday).

Exhibition dancing at the Casino, Jewett City, tonight—adv.

While in camp at Niantic last week, Major James A. Haggerty, of New Britain, formerly a captain in the 102nd infantry, which saw hard service in France and made a gallant record, inquired of Captain F. O. Armstrong, as to whether the local officer knew of any A. E. F. man in Danielson who was Major Haggerty's runner and interpreter in France. The major said he lost track of this particular Danielson soldier after the fight at Seicheprey in April of 1918, and never heard of him again.

Captain Armstrong was unable to identify this particular soldier from the facts that Major Haggerty was able to give him, but what the major did say has enabled Captain Armstrong to find out who the soldier is.

Private Adelard Barbeau, 102nd infantry, is the man that Major Haggerty has been inquiring about. It is small wonder that Major Haggerty lost track of this Danielson soldier, for he was wounded in bitter fighting in the battle referred to, was captured by the Germans and remained in a German prison camp for about eight months, suffering innumerable hardships, from which, happily, he has fully recovered and is now in the service.

PUTNAM

Among the new firms granted charters in the state of Massachusetts last week was the Putnam Manufacturing Company, of Boston and Putnam, which concern is to engage in the manufacture of cottons, woolsens, and textiles. The capital of the new concern is one million dollars, and the incorporators are W. B. Nye and Fred L. Cook of Franklin, Mass., and Jennie M. Laing of Braintree, Mass.

The new textile concern controls the plant of the present Putnam Manufacturing company, which is located on Providence street in Putnam. The original corporation was projected in 1847 by Hosea Ballou, and the mill is one of the oldest in this city. Hosea Ballou died in 1861 and Winton Vaughan of Providence acquired the property, which he controlled until his death, when it passed into the hands of the corporation that has been running the plant since the reorganization of last week. The capital stock of the old corporation was only $300,000 as compared with $1,000,000 of the new enterprise. The mill which the corporation owns in Putnam is of stone, and the main building is six stories high. There are several wings. The company has been engaged here in manufacturing cotton goods and light sheeting. They have a capacity of nearly 500,000 yards. The motive power, which is supplemented by steam, supplying the water is a fine mill privilege. In addition to the mill itself, the company owns over twenty buildings where operatives live. Many of these contain two families. The mill employs over 200 hands.

During this past year there have been persistent rumors that a large tire concern was anxious to buy the plant of the concern to use as a mill in making the duck. After considerable negotiation the matter was dropped. Since then the tire concern has purchased a mill in another part of this county. Little information concerning the new textile concern, which received its charter last week, is to be had in Putnam. The stock is owned by outside interests.

Among those from Putnam who went to East Killingly to attend the Old Home celebration Thursday were George Lewis, Dr. J. Bryden Kent, Ralph Thurston, Eugene Brown, Arthur Cotton, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mansfield, Mr. Nelson Mansfield, Horatio N. Brown, Judge Mahlon H. Geisler, Miss Elizabeth Barnes, Attorney Irving H. Milson.

Because of the washout at Dyer dam, which supplies the water power that runs the dynamo of the Connecticut Company, no trolley cars were running in Putnam Thursday morning. Service was not resumed until later in the day when emergency steam boilers were pressed into service and power obtained from them.

Dr. William K. Bath was in Williamtown Thursday morning.

Mrs. George Fine of New London is the guest of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Simpson, of Franklin, Mass. Tuesday.

Deacon C. Dwight Sharpe led the mid-week prayer meeting at the Congregational church Thursday night. This was the last mid-week meeting until September.

Rev. and Mrs. Willard Beard of Poochew, China, who landed in this country last week are to come to Putnam next week to be guests of Mrs. Beard's mother and sister. They are now in Shelton.

Under the title, Connecticut Has Good Farm Bureaus, Excellent Work Being Done in Windham County, the July number of a New England farm journal of high standing describes what is being accomplished in this county by the Farmers Association which has its headquarters in Putnam with Frank L. Davis in charge of the work. The opening paragraph of the article characterizes the local farm bureaus as one that merits the "respect, confidence and loyalty of the farmers of the county." Illustrating the article are photographs of the farms of Ezra May and George Erick in Woodstock and a picture of a valuable Hereford bull that is owned jointly by the farmers of Woodstock. This animal was acquired through the Association.

In brief way the article, which is written in an editorial style, outlines some of the major activities of the local farm bureau. It tells how in 1919 testing of seed corn was emphasized with much success, and not only better crops, but a better time the bureau made an intensive study of the cost of milk production, and showed that there is wide variation throughout the county in what farmers are receiving in return for their labor. A campaign to instruct farmers in the use of fertilizers was also carried out by the Association.

At present the Association is particularly interested in soy-bean demonstrations that are being conducted under the direction of Mr. Davis. The spring he secured four bushels of medium green variety soy beans for the use of farm bureau members. Mr. Davis is also arranging at the present time spraying demonstrations to protect the potato crops may not be ruined as was the case on some farms last year. The present membership in the association is nearly 900, and when the campaign now in progress is completed it will have reached the 1000 mark. Each town in the county is represented by a man and a woman on the board of directors. The present officers of the association are Everett E. Brown, Pomfret Center, president; H. S. Peckham, Woodstock, vice president; Whitman Danielson, Putnam, secretary-treasurer; Frank L. Davis, Putnam, agent.

G. Harold Gilpatrick, of Putnam, and Fayette L. Wright of Pomfret, members of the Pomfret center central committee, have received the call for a meeting to be held in Danbury August 4. At that meeting the time and place

Build Firm Flesh and Strength By Taking Phosphate

Nothing Like Plain, Bitter-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

At the seaside too, the plump well rounded figure is most admired.

The average person is beginning to realize more and more the lack of physical strength and nerve exhaustion (frequently evidenced by excessive thinness) are the direct cause not only of the failure to succeed in life's struggle for the necessities of existence, but also for the handicap in one's social aspirations. Compare the thin, sickly, angular frame with the well rounded form which is usually accompanied by the bloom of health and attractiveness.

That millions of people are conscious of this handicap is evident from the continued appearance in newspapers and magazines of many suggestions proposing various remedies in food or medicine or exercises, either of which may or might not be appropriate for a given case.

Authorities, however, agree that healthy nerve tissue is absolutely essential to a strong, robust body and mind. Weak nerves, while indicated by a multitude of different symptoms, immediately and generally result in lack of energy, sleeplessness, irritability, depression, etc., which conditions gradually consume the healthy flesh, leaving ugly hollows, a flat chest, bony neck and scrawny arms and legs.

Our bodies need more phosphate than most of them are able to extract from the foods we eat nowaday. Many opinions affirm that there is nothing which may be taken into the human system that so effectively supplies this deficiency as the pure organic phosphate known as Bitter-Phosphate and sold by Lee & Osmond at good drug stores everywhere.

The essential phosphoric acid elements in Bitter-Phosphate assimilated by the cells should soon produce a pleasing change in nerve and muscle, increased vitality and strength. With the burdens of nervousness, sleeplessness, lack of energy, and other ailments which its attractive fullness and ruddy glow of health replaces the former picture of skin and bone.

CAUTION—While Bitter-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, indigestion, etc., it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

Funeral services of Benjamin L. Rich, 65, who was found dead at his home in Fitchburg, Mass. Tuesday, were held from his home Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The body was brought to Putnam for burial, and interment services were held at 3 o'clock with burial in Grove street cemetery.

The body of Mrs. Alice Johnson Carlson, 55, who died Wednesday morning at her home in Webster, was brought to North Woodstock Thursday for burial. Mrs. Carlson was born in Sweden but came to this country as a young woman, locating at Woodstock. From Woodstock she moved to Webster. The funeral services were held at her home Thursday morning.

A tan spring overcoat was stolen from the automobile of Leon Talabac of North Grovesville, Wednesday afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock. Mr. Talabac had parked his car in Union square while having lunch at a hotel. Before going to his car he had put on the top of his car, and in doing had moved his coat from behind the side curtains and put it under the seat. Soon after leaving Putnam he discovered that the coat was gone. A number of days later the coat was found in the trunk of a car which was also under the seat was untouched. Captain John Bulger was notified of the theft Thursday morning.

Mrs. Herbert Bowen of Woodstock notified Captain John Bulger Thursday afternoon that while her car was left standing on Main street earlier in the day a linen seat cover was taken from it.

Miss N. Alice Dalton of Northampton, Mass. is the guest of Captain and Mrs. John Bulger.

Meredith Pratt of Brooklyn, was operated on for appendicitis at the Day-Kimball hospital Thursday morning.

At the boys' camp at Webster Lake, in the second race between LeRoy Ames, Harold Kenney, and Wilson and Jerome Andrews, Chandler Morse, Jas. Kenney, the former again were victors by more than four boat lengths. As this the second race that they have won, they are victors for the series.

Gerald Marcy went home with his parents Wednesday night.

One of the things that tell that the camp is somewhere near civilization is that while her car was left standing on Main street earlier in the day a linen seat cover was taken from it.

It has been rather cold mornings lately and there are few that take the morning dip, and many wish that they had extra blankets.

Bloomfield—Rev. Richard T. Elliott, pastor of the First Baptist church, was operated on at St. Francis hospital recently for appendicitis, is rapidly improving.
